Glass fiber fabric tape 19mm x 20m, white Scotch 27 19x20 width 19mm, material glass fiber fabric, color white, length 20m, insulating, self-extinguishing, temperature resistance 0 ... 130°C, thickness 0.19mm, the Scotch® glass fiber fabric tape 27 withstands a breakdown voltage of 3,000 With a temperature resistance of up to 130 °C, Volt stands and belongs to insulation class B. It can be used to insulate electrical components that give off a lot of heat and as a protective covering against heat radiation. Like all glass fabric tapes, it is particularly tear and abrasion resistant. This ensures long functionality even under high mechanical stress, such as in electric motors. Due to its elasticity, the insulating tape, which is coated with a heat-curing rubber adhesive, adapts excellently to various substrates. At the same time, the printable fabric structure ensures excellent absorption of resins and paints. Details: High temperature resistance, corrosion-free protection, printable, UL certified, abrasion-resistant for long-term use, particularly tear-resistant, elastic for optimal surface adaptation, excellent absorption of resins and paints. Recommended applications: For protection against electrical components that give off a lot of heat and as protective wrapping against heat radiation, as cable protection for soldering and welding work.
