UniCam SC connector OM3/OM4 Multimode 95-050-41-X Plug version, suitable for multimode fiber type, SC connector type, crimping connection type, ceramic ferrule material, The UniCam connector system combines the technical advantages of pigtailed with the advantages of field-mountable connectors Plug. The UniCamR connector is an ideal solution that focuses on all the requirements of a field-installable connector. The quick installation time reduces the overall cost of the connection and makes the UniCam connector a cost-effective alternative for all fiber optic applications from campus distribution to workplace cabling. The special features are high precision of the high-quality and quality-controlled end surface processing as well as a visual check for function when installing the plug. When it comes to field assembly, reliability is particularly important. As a special feature, the UniCam plugs offer a visual confirmation of the connection in the plug. This is done by simply coupling visible light into the connector end surface. Due to the special design of the UniCam connectors, the scattered light that occurs when the fiber positioning in the splice is not optimal is made visible in an indicator field. The fiber positioning is error-free as soon as the light in the indicator field becomes significantly darker. The installer receives an immediate indication of the quality and can make adjustments if necessary. The Unicam connectors can be installed directly on 900µm solid cores (iMIC cable) or with a splitting adapter, with individual elements 900µm, 2.0mm or 2.9mm, on central or bundled core cables with 250µm fibers. 50µm multimode (OM3/OM4 compatible).
